"Invigorate, Stimulate, Participate: Grow Your Mind and Practice"

Practice Management Conference 2010

Don't miss this exciting two-day educational meeting at the Taj Mahal Hotel and Casino in Atlantic City, NJ, on April 22-23, 2010. This annual conference is sponsored by the New Jersey Medical Group Management Association.

Attend and meet Joan Lunden, the award winning television journalist (longest running host of ABC TV's Good Moring America and current host of Lifetime TV's Health Corner), best-selling author and international speaker will speak about effectively managing the delivery of health care services. William F. Jessee, MD, President and CEO of MGMA, recognized as one of the top 25 healthcare leaders in the United States, will provide his expert thoughts and insights on the current status of our nation's health care system, and his opinions as to what the future may hold for health care providers. Vince and Vance Moss, MD's recipients of the ABC News Person of the Year Award and U.S. Army veterans of both Iraq and Afghanistan, will inspire you with their life's mission of achieving beyond the limits and what that philosophy will allow each of us to accomplish.

During the two days there will be fifteen breakout sessions for small group discussions led by trained professionals. These sessions will deal with improving your bottom line, implementing EMR, negotiating reimbursement contracts, time management, keeping employees happy and productive, streamlining patient flow, and more.

In addition, there will be over 50 vendors specializing in services and products specific for health care providers. SaVit Collection Agency will be at Booth 52. Visit us and enter for a chance to take home some cash. Our odds of winning are better than at the casino.

Complete information about the entire program, speakers, registration and hotel rooms can be found on the website www.pmc2010.org or by sending an email to help@savit.com with your mailing address for a brochure containing all the details.
